

strident['straɪd(ə)nt] a

- 1) скрипучий; пронзительный резкий strident voice - резкий /скрипучий/ голос
- 2) кричащий, вычурный strident colours - кричащие цвета
- 3) пронзительный крикливый strident complaints - громкие сетования strident accusations - громогласные обвинения strident

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

stri·dent BrE ['straɪdnt] ^u NAmE ['straɪdnt] ^u adjective

1. having a loud, rough and unpleasant sound
 - a strident voice
 - strident music
 - the strident ringing of the phone
2. aggressive and determined
 - He is a strident advocate of nuclear power.
 - strident criticism

Derived Words ↑stridency ▪ ↑stridently

Word Origin:

[stridency strident stridently] mid 17th cent.: from Latin strident- 'creaking', from the verb stridere.strident

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

stri·dent /'straɪdnt/ BrE ^u AmE ^u adjective[Date: 1600-1700; Language: Latin; Origin: present participle of stridere 'to make a rough unpleasant noise']

1. forceful and determined, especially in a way that is offensive or annoying:
 - strident criticism
2. a strident sound or voice is loud and unpleasant:
 - the strident calls of seagulls

—stridently adverb—stridency noun [uncountable]strident

Freakuency Pack

12500 10152^{MCW}15000 9407^{COCA}RANGE: 11k STRIDENT⁸⁰³strident⁶⁹⁴stridently¹⁰⁹

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

648 26323⁶⁹⁴ jj