

translucent[trænz'lu:s(ə)nt] a

- 1) просвечивающий; полупрозрачный
translucent amber - полупрозрачный янтарь
translucent wave [skin] - просвечивающая волна [кожа]
translucent frosted glass - полупрозрачное матовое стекло
the fog became more translucent - туман понемногу редел /рассеивался/
 - 2) ясный, прозрачный (для понимания)
translucent phrases - прозрачные фразы
translucent exposition - прозрачный стиль изложения
2. пронизывающий; ослепительнояркий
the translucent rays of the sun - ослепительнояркие лучи солнца

translucent

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

trans·lu·cent BrE [træns'luːsnt] ^m NAmE [træns'luːsnt] ^m BrE [trænz'luːsnt] ^m*NAmE* [trænz'luːsnt] ^m adjective (formal)

allowing light to pass through but not transparent

- The sky was a pale translucent blue.
- His skin was translucent with age.

Derived Word ↑translucenceSee also: ↑translucencyWord Origin:[translucence translucent] late 16th cent. (in the Latin sense): from Latin translucent- 'shining through', from the verb translucere, from trans- 'through' + lucere 'to shine'.translucent

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

trans·lu·cent /trænz'luːsnt $ træns-/ BrE ^m AmE ^m adjective[Date: 1400-1500; Language: Latin; Origin: present participle of translucere 'to shine through', from lucere 'to shine'] not transparent, but clear enough to allow light to pass through:

Blue veins showed through her translucent skin.

—translucence noun [uncountable]translucent

Freakuency Pack

12500 10253^{MCW}15000 6986^{COCA}RANGE: 10k TRANSLUCENT ¹⁵⁸⁴translucent ¹⁵⁷⁹translucently ⁵

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

1328 15746¹⁵⁷⁹ jj