

flagrant[ˈfleɪɡrənt] a

1. ужасный, огромный

flagrant crime - чудовищное преступление

in flagrant delict - юр. на месте преступления

2. вопиющий, возмутительный

flagrant injustice - вопиющая несправедливость

flagrant case - скандальное дело

3. редк. пылающий, горящийflagrant

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

flagrant BrE [ˈfleɪɡrənt] ^m NAmE [ˈfleɪɡrənt] ^m adjective

(of an action) shocking because it is done in a very obvious way and shows no respect for people, laws, etc.

Syn: ↑blatant

• a flagrant abuse of human rights

• a flagrant breach of copyright

• He showed a flagrant disregard for anyone else's feelings.

Derived Word ↑flagrantlyWord Origin:[flagrant flagrantly] late 15th cent. (in the sense 'blazing'): from French, or from Latin flagrant- 'blazing', from the verb flagrareExample Bank:

• He showed a flagrant disregard for anyone else's feelings.

• This is a flagrant breach of copyright.

flagrant

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

flagrant /ˈfleɪɡrənt/ BrE ^m AmE ^m adjective[Date: 1400-1500; Language: Latin; Origin: flagrare 'to burn']

a flagrant action is shocking because it is done in a way that is easily noticed and shows no respect for laws, truth etc

flagrant abuse/violation/breach etc

" flagrant violations of human rights

" a flagrant disregard for the law—flagrantly *adverbflagrant

Freakuency Pack

12500 10277^{MCW}15000 10549^{COCA}RANGE: 9k FLAGRANT 594

flagrant 459

flagrantly 135

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

383 35465⁴¹⁵ *jj*42 116027⁴⁴ nn1