

Sunday1. ['sʌndi] n

воскресенье

on Sunday - в воскресенье

Sunday dinner - воскресный обед

Sunday saint - ханжа

Sunday laws - «воскресные законы» (запрещающие некоторые виды деятельности)

◇ month /week/ of Sundays - большой промежуток времени

it will take me a month of Sundays to do it - у меня уйдёт на это очень много времени

to look two ways to find Sunday - косить (глазами)

when two Sundays come together - ≅ после дождика в четверг, когда рак свистнет

2. ['sʌndi] v амер. разг.

проводить воскресенье

he was Sundaying in the country - на воскресенье он уехал за город

Sunday

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

Sun·day ['sʌndeɪ] BrE ['sʌndeɪ] NAme ['sʌndeɪ] BrE ['sʌndi]NAme ['sʌndi] noun (abbr. Sun.)1. countable, uncountable the day of the week after Saturday and before Monday, thought of as either the first or the last day of the week To see how Sunday is used, look at the examples at Monday.2. countable, usually plural (BrE, informal) a newspaper published on a Sundaymore at in a month of Sundays at ↑monthIdiom: ↑your Sunday bestWord Origin:Old English Sunnandæg 'day of the sun', translation of Latin dies solis; compare with Dutch zondag and German Sonntag.Sunday

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

Sun·day /'sʌndi, -deɪ/ BrE AmE noun [uncountable and countable][Language: Old English; Origin: sunnandæg]1. (written abbreviation Sun.) the day between Saturday and Mondayon Sunday

" We're going to a match on Sunday.

" What are you doing Sunday? *American EnglishSunday morning/afternoon etc

" Sunday nights are usually pretty quiet.

last Sunday

" It was our wedding anniversary last Sunday.

this Sunday

" There's another antiques market this Sunday.

next Sunday (=Sunday of next week)

" We'll announce the winners next Sunday.

a Sunday (=one of the Sundays in the year)

" Finding a dentist on a Sunday can be very difficult.

2. your Sunday best your best clothes, worn only for special occasions or for church3. Sunday driver an insulting expression meaning someone who annoys other people by driving too slowly⇒ never in a month of Sundays at ↑month(6)