

highly['haɪli] adv

- очень, весьма, чрезвычайно, сильно
 - a highly amusing film - очень занятный фильм
 - a highly gifted poet - весьма одарённый поэт
 - a highly original opinion - чрезвычайно оригинальное мнение
 - a highly coloured description - а) приукрашенное описание; б) очень яркое описание
 - a highly polished surface - хорошо отполированная поверхность
 - highly polished boots - до блеска начищенные ботинки
 - to favour highly - очень благоволять, относиться очень благосклонно
 - to commend [to value] highly - очень хвалить [ценить]
 - to season highly - сильно наперчить, густо посолить, остро приправить
 - to be highly pleased [displeased] - быть чрезвычайно довольным [недовольным]
 - to be highly dangerous - быть очень опасным
 - to feel oneself highly flattered - чувствовать себя весьма /крайне/ польщённым
 - he is a highly respectable /esteemed/ person - его все очень уважают
- высоко
 - a highly placed official - чиновник, занимающий высокое положение
 - a highly paid worker - высокооплачиваемый рабочий
 - a highly developed culture [civilization, industry] - высокоразвитая культура [цивилизация, промышленность]
 - a highly descended person - лицо аристократического происхождения
 - he is highly connected - у него связи в высших сферах
- благоприятно благосклонно
 - to speak highly of smb. - хорошо /благосклонно/ отзываться о ком-л.; хвалить кого-л.
 - to think too highly of oneself - слишком высоко себя ставить, слишком много о себе думать; задаваться

highly

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

highly BrE ['haɪli] ^m NAmE ['haɪli] ^m *adverb1. very

- highly successful/skilled/intelligent
- highly competitive/critical/sensitive
- It is highly unlikely that she'll be late.

2. at or to a high standard, level or amount

- highly trained/educated
- a highly paid job

3. with admiration or praise

- His teachers think very highly of him (= have a very good opinion of him).
- She speaks highly of you.
- Her novels are very highly regarded.

Word Origin:[highly] Old English hēalīce (see ↑high, ↑ly).Example Bank:

- a highly skilled workforce
- highly critical/sensitive
- highly successful/intelligent/skilled/motivated/competitive

highly

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

highly S2 W2 /'haɪli/ BrE ^m AmE ^m adverb[Word Family: noun: ↑Highness, ↑high; adverb: ↑high, ↑highly; adjective: ↑high]1. [+ adjective, adverb] very*highly successful/effective/efficient

- a highly successful politician
- Tom's mother was highly critical of the school's approach.
- highly competitive industries
- a highly desirable neighborhood

highly unlikely/likely/improbable/probable

- It's highly unlikely that the project will be finished on time.
- T.S. Eliot's highly influential poem, 'The Waste Land'
- a highly controversial issue

2. [+ adjective, adverb] to a high level or standardhighly skilled/trained/educated

- She is a highly educated woman.
- highly paid experts
- a highly developed economy

3. highly placed in an important or powerful position:

- a highly placed government official

4. highly strung especially British English, high-strung American English nervous and easily upset or excited:

a highly strung child

5. if you think highly of someone or something, you think they are very good and you admire them

think/speak highly of somebody

" I've always thought very highly of Michael.

" a highly regarded author

highly

Freakuency Pack

12500 1053^{MCW}

15000 116^{COCA}

RANGE: 1k HIGH 324487

high 191528

higher 66116

highest 20798

highly 30813

highs 1434

highway 10938

highways 2860

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

20960 1370³⁰⁷⁹⁴ rr

13 222493¹³ jj

6 347510⁶ nnu