

flint [flɪnt] n

1. 1) кремeнь, кремнёвая галька; мелкозернистый песчаник
- 2) камень
the ground was frozen to flint - земля замёрзла и стала как камень
2. кремeнь для высекания огня огнивом
3. кремнёвое орудие первобытного человека
4. редк. скряга
5. = flint glass
 - ◇ a heart of flint - каменное сердце
 - her heart became flint - сердце её окаменело
 - he set his face like a flint - его лицо стало каменным
 - to skin /to flay/ a flint - ≅ из камня лыки драть

2. [flint] v

снабжать кремнём

flint

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

flint [flɪnt flɪnts] BrE [flɪnt] ^m NAmE [flɪnt] ^m noun

1. uncountable, countable a type of very hard grey stone that can produce a [↑]spark when it is hit against steel
 - prehistoric flint implements
 - His eyes were as hard as flint.
2. countable a piece of flint or hard metal that is used to produce a [↑]spark

Word Origin:

Old English; related to Middle Dutch vlint and Old High German flins.

flint

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

flint /flɪnt/ BrE ^m AmE ^m noun

[Language: Old English]

1. [uncountable] a type of smooth hard stone that makes a small flame when you hit it with steel
2. [countable] a piece of this stone or a small piece of metal that makes a small flame when you hit it with steel

flint

Freakuency Pack

12500 10534^{MCW}

15000 9937^{COCA}

RANGE: 7k FLINT ¹⁹⁴⁷

flint ¹⁶⁹⁴

flints ⁷⁴

flinty ¹⁷⁹

flintier ⁰

flintiest ⁰

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

543 18419¹²³⁹ np1

290 33680⁴⁵⁵ nn1