

eureka

[jʊ(ə)'ri:kə] int эпеч.
эврика!, нашёл!

eureka

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

eur·eka BrE [juˈri:kə] NAmE [juˈri:kə] exclamation

used to show pleasure at having found sth, especially the answer to a problem

Word Origin:

[eureka] early 17th cent.: from Greek heurēka 'I have found it' (from heuriskein 'find'), said to have been uttered by Archimedes when he hit upon a method of determining the purity of gold.

eureka

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

eu·re·ka /juˈri:kə BrE AmE interjection humorous

[Date: 1600-1700; Language: Greek; Origin: heureka 'I have found', said by the Greek scientist Archimedes when he discovered a method of testing the purity of gold]

used to show how happy you are that you have discovered the answer to a problem, found something etc

eureka

Freakuency Pack

12500 10743^{MCW}

15000 9752^{COCA}

RANGE: 11k EUREKA ⁷³⁰

eureka ⁷³⁰

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

⁴⁸⁷ 25578⁷³⁰ uh