

forfeit

1. ['fɔ:fit] n
 - 1) штраф
to pay the forfeit - уплачивать штраф; неустойка (мж. forfeit penalty)
 - 2) расплата (обыкн. за проступок)
his life was the forfeit for his carelessness - он поплатился жизнью за свою беспечность
some scientists have paid the forfeit of their lives in the cause of knowledge - есть учёные, которые отдали жизнь за дело науки
 2. 1) конфискация, наложение штрафа, лишение права (на что-л.)
the forfeit of civil rights - лишение гражданских прав
 - 2) потеря права (на что-л. в результате проступка)
 - 3) конфискованная вещь
 - 1) фант
 - 2) pl игра в фанты (мж. game of forfeits)
2. ['fɔ:fit] a predic
конфискованный
property forfeit (in)to the state - имущество, конфискованное государством
3. ['fɔ:fit] v
 1. лишаться (чего-л.), утрачивать (что-л.); поплатиться (чем-л. за проступок, преступление)
to forfeit one's property - лишиться имущества (в результате конфискации)
to forfeit one's life - поплатиться жизнью
to forfeit liberty - лишиться свободы
he forfeited his driving licence - у него отобрали водительские права
 2. лишаться права, утрачивать право (на что-л.)
to forfeit smb.'s confidence - лишаться /не оправдывать/ чьего-л. доверия
to forfeit one's honour - запятнать свою репутацию
to forfeit a point - спорт. потерять очко (за отказ от игры или за неявку)

forfeit

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

forfeit [forfeit forfeits forfeited forfeiting] verb, noun, adjective BrE ['fɔ:fɪt]f

NAme ['fɔ:rfɪt]^u

verb ~ sth

to lose sth or have sth taken away from you because you have done sth wrong

- If you cancel your flight, you will forfeit your deposit.
- He has forfeited his right to be taken seriously.

Verb forms:

verb forms
present simple
I / you / we / they	forfeit
	BrE / 'fɔ:fit/
	NAme / 'fɔ:rfɪt/
he / she / it	forfeits
	BrE / 'fɔ:fitz/
	NAme / 'fɔ:rfɪtɪz/
past simple, past participle	forfeited
	BrE / 'fɔ:fitɪd/
	NAme / 'fɔ:rfɪtɪd/
-ing form	forfeiting
	BrE / 'fɔ:fitɪŋ/
	NAme / 'fɔ:rfɪtɪŋ/

Word Origin:

Middle English (originally denoting a crime or transgression, hence a fine): from Old French forfet, forfait, past participle of forfaire 'transgress', from for- 'out' (from Latin foris 'outside') + faire 'do' (from Latin facere).

noun

something that a person has to pay, or sth that is taken from them, because they have done sth wrong

Word Origin:

Middle English (originally denoting a crime or transgression, hence a fine): from Old French forfet, forfait, past participle of forfaire 'transgress', from for- 'out' (from Latin foris 'outside') + faire 'do' (from Latin facere).

adjective not before noun (formal)

taken away from sb as a punishment

Word Origin:

Middle English (originally denoting a crime or transgression, hence a fine): from Old French forfet, forfait, past participle of forfaire 'transgress', from for- 'out' (from Latin foris 'outside') + faire 'do' (from Latin facere).

forfeit

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

1. forfeit ¹ /fɔ:fɪt, fɔ:rfɪt/ BrE ^u AmE ^u verb [transitive] to lose a right, position, possession etc or have it taken away from you because you have broken a law or rule:

By being absent from the trial, he forfeited the right to appeal.

She was fined £3,000 and ordered to forfeit her car.

II. forfeit² BrE ⁿ AmE ⁿ noun [countable]

[Date: 1200-1300; Language: Old French; Origin: forfeit, past participle of forfaire 'to do a crime']

something that is taken away from you or something that you have to pay, because you have broken a rule or made a mistake

III. forfeit³ BrE ^a AmE ^a adjective

be forfeit formal to be legally or officially taken away from you as a punishment:

The company's property may even be forfeit.

forfeit

Freakuency Pack

12500 11150^{MCW}

15000 7498^{COCA}

RANGE: 7k FORFEIT¹³⁵⁷

forfeit⁵⁸²

forfeits⁶⁵

forfeited³⁴⁰

forfeiting¹¹⁵

forfeiture²⁵⁵

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

324 38530³⁵⁹ vvi

128 65664¹³² vv0

76 79685⁹¹ nn1
