

concord

1. [ˈkɒŋkɔːd] n

1. согласие; мир
to live in concord - жить в согласии /в мире/
2. соглашение; договор, конвенция
3. грам. согласование
there must be concord between verb and noun - глагол должен согласоваться с существительным
4. муз. созвучие, гармония

2. [kənˈkɔːd] v редк.

- 1) договариваться, сговариваться
- 2) спец. составлять конкорданцию, алфавитный указатель

concord

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

con·cord [concord concords] BrE [ˈkɒŋkɔːd] NAmE [ˈkɑːŋkɔːrd] noun

uncountable

1. ~ (with sb) (formal) peace and agreement

Syn: ↑harmony

- living in concord with neighbouring states

Opp: ↑discord

2. uncountable ~ (with sth) (grammar) (of words in a phrase) the fact of having the same ↑number, ↑gender or ↑person

Syn: ↑agreement

- In the sentence 'They live in the country.', the plural verb 'live' is in concord with the plural subject 'They'.

Word Origin:

Middle English: from Old French concorde, from Latin concordia, from concors 'of one mind', from con- 'together' + cor, cord- 'heart'.

concord

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

con·cord /ˈkɒŋkɔːd $ ˈkɑːŋkɔːrd/ BrE AmE noun [uncountable]

[Date: 1200-1300; Language: Old French; Origin: concorde, from Latin concordia, from concors 'agreeing', from com- (⇒ COM-) + cor 'heart']

1. formal the state of having a friendly relationship, so that you agree on things and live in peace OPP discord
2. technical in grammar, concord between words happens when they match correctly, for example when a plural noun has a plural verb following it

concord

Freakuency Pack

12500 12033<sup>MCW</sup>

15000 11198<sup>COCA</sup>

RANGE: 14k CONCORD 2038

concord 1684

concords 14

concordance 326

concordances 14

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

998 16099<sup>1528</sup> np1

122 60346<sup>156</sup> nn1