

submit[səb'mɪt] v (обыкн. to)

1. подчиняться, покоряться

to submit entirely [mutely, docilely] - полностью [молчаливо, покорно] подчиниться to submit oneself to smb.'s authority - подчиниться чьему-л. авторитету to submit to terms - подчиниться условиям, принять условия

I'll never submit to indignity - я не потерплю унижения

to submit to defeat - примириться с поражением

to submit to necessity - склониться перед необходимостью

to such threats as these we have no intention of submitting - мы не намерены поддаваться таким угрозам

2. подвергать

to submit smb. to examination [torture, interrogation] - подвергнуть кого-л. освидетельствованию [пытке, допросу]

to submit smb. to a strict diet - предписать кому-л. строгую диету

the metal was submitted to analysis - металл прошёл анализ

3. представлять на рассмотрение (в суд, комиссию и т. п.)

to submit smth. to smb.'s approval [to smb.'s consideration] - представить /отдать/ что-л. на чей-л. суд [на чьё-л. рассмотрение]

to submit a draft agreement [resolution] - внести проект соглашения [резолуции]

to submit a case to the court - представить дело на рассмотрение суда

to submit an application - подать заявление

the manuscript was submitted anonymously - рукопись была прислана без указания фамилии автора

4. юр. предлагать (свою точку зрения и т. п.); утверждать; заявлять

I submit that a material fact has been passed over - я утверждаю, что был оставлен без внимания существенный факт

we submit that the charge is not proved - мы заявляем, что обвинение не доказано

submit

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

sub·mit AW [submit submits submitted submitting] BrE [səb'mɪt] NAmE[səb'mɪt] verb (-tt-)1. transitive ~ sth (to sb/sth) to give a document, proposal, etc. to sb in authority so that they can study or consider it• to submit an application /a claim/a complaint

• Completed projects must be submitted by 10 March.

2. intransitive, transitive (formal) to accept the authority, control or greater strength of sb/sth; to agree to sth because of thisSyn: ↑give in to somebody, Syn: ↑yield• ~ (to sb/sth) She refused to submit to threats.• ~ yourself (to sb/sth) He submitted himself to a search by the guards.3. transitive ~ that... (law or formal) to say or suggest sth

• Counsel for the defence submitted that the evidence was inadmissible.

Verb forms:

verb forms
present simple
I / you / we / they	submit
	BrE /səb 'mɪt/
	NAmE /səb 'mɪt/
he / she / it	submits
	BrE /səb 'mɪts/
	NAmE /səb 'mɪts/
past simple, past participle	submitted
	BrE /səb 'mɪtɪd/
	NAmE /səb 'mɪtɪd/
-ing form	submitting
	BrE /səb 'mɪtɪŋ/
	NAmE /səb 'mɪtɪŋ/

Word Origin:late Middle English: from Latin submittere, from sub- 'under' + mittere 'send, put'. Sense 1 'present for judgement' dates from the mid 16th cent.Example Bank:

- Candidates for the degree are required to submit a 30 000-word thesis.
- He formally submitted his resignation.
- He submitted voluntarily to arrest.
- He voluntarily submitted to their control.
- May I respectfully submit that this is not the right thing to do?
- She submitted her report to the committee.
- Six groups were invited to submit proposals for the research.
- They abandoned their town rather than submit to the Persians.
- They have submitted plans for our approval.
- They were forced to submit to Bulgarian rule.
- the manuscript I originally submitted to them
- She submitted that the local authority should bear the cost.
- They have submitted an application for planning permission to build an extension.

submit

submit S3 W3 AC /səb'mɪt/ BrE ^ˈ AmE ^ˈ verb (past tense and past participle submitted, present participle submitting)

[Word Family: noun: ↑submission, ↑submissiveness; verb: ↑submit; adverb: ↑submissively; adjective: ↑submissive]

[Date: 1300-1400; Language: Latin; Origin: submittere 'to lower, submit', from mittere 'to send']

1. [transitive] to give a plan, piece of writing etc to someone in authority for them to consider or approve

submit an application/claim/proposal etc

" All applications must be submitted by Monday.

2. [intransitive and transitive] formal to agree to obey someone or something or to go through a process, especially when you have no choice SYN give in

submit to

" Derek has agreed to submit to questioning.

3. [transitive] formal law to suggest or say something

submit (that)

" I submit that the jury has been influenced by the publicity in this case.

submit

Freakuency Pack

12500 2345^{MCW}

15000 2729^{COCA}

RANGE: 4k SUBMIT 10068

submit 4331

submits 287

submitted 4635

submitting 815

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

2578 10014³⁰⁷² vvi

1127 18248¹²⁵⁹ vv0