

remarkable[rɪˈmɑːkəb(ə)] a

1) замечательный удивительный

remarkable resemblance - удивительное сходство

in a remarkable manner - удивительным образом

remarkable event - выдающееся событие

2) (for) отличающийся, знаменитый (чем-л.)

a man remarkable for his courage - человек, известный своей храбростью

a boy remarkable for his stupidity - парень, отличающийся необыкновенной тупостью

remarkable

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

re-mark-able BrE [rɪˈmɑːkəbəl] NAmE [rɪˈmɑːrkəbəl] adjective

unusual or surprising in a way that causes people to take notice

Syn: ↑astonishing

- a remarkable achievement/career/talent
- She was a truly remarkable woman.
- What is even more remarkable about the whole thing is...
- ~ for sth The area is remarkable for its scenery.
- ~ that... It is remarkable that nobody noticed sooner.

Opp: ↑unremarkableDerived Word ↑remarkablyWord Origin:early 17th cent.: from French remarquable, from remarquer 'take note of', from re- (expressing intensive force) + marquer 'to mark, note'.Thesaurus:*remarkable [remarkable remarkably] adj.

- The interior of the house was remarkable for its beauty.

exceptional • • unique • • extraordinary • • phenomenal • • amazing • • astonishing • • miraculous • |informal incredible • • unbelievable • • staggering • • stunning • |written unusual •

Opp: unremarkablea/an remarkable/exceptional/unique/extraordinary/phenomenal/amazing/astonishing/incredible/staggering achievementa/an remarkable/extraordinary/phenomenal/amazing/astonishing/miraculous/incredible/stunning/unusual successremarkable/exceptional/unique/extraordinary/astonishing/incredible/unbelievable/stunning beauty*Example Bank:

- These cars are remarkable for the quietness of their engines.
- What they have achieved is just remarkable.
- a most remarkable musician
- a truly remarkable discovery
- He adapted to the new situation with remarkable speed.
- It was remarkable that the body had not been found sooner.
- The interior of the house was remarkable for its beauty.
- Winning the cup was a remarkable achievement

remarkable

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

re-mark-a-ble W3 /rɪˈmɑːkəbəl/ $ -ɑːr- BrE AmE adjective[Word Family: verb: ↑remark; noun: ↑remark; adverb: ↑remarkably; adjective: ↑remarkable ≠ ↑unremarkable] unusual or surprising and therefore deserving attention or praise:

- She has made remarkable progress.
- a remarkable coincidence

remarkable feat/achievement/accomplishment

- It's a remarkable achievement for the company.

it is remarkable that

- It is remarkable that women did not have the vote until that time.

remarkable for

- His drawings are remarkable for their accuracy.
- He's a remarkable man.

remarkable

Freakuency Pack

12500 2465^{MCW}15000 1348^{COCA}RANGE: 2k REMARK 31841

remark 3468

remarked 3360

marking 283

remarks 7140

remarkable 12153

remarkably 4719

unremarkable 707

unremarkably 11

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

9844 3415¹²¹⁵³ jj
