genetic

[dʒɪ'netɪk,-{dʒɪ'netɪk}(ə)l] a биол.

генетический

genetic(al) affinity - филогенетическоеродство

genetic(al) relation(ship) - генетическая связь

---

genetic

gen·et·ic BrE [dʒə'netɪk] NAmE [dʒə'netɪk] adjective connected with ↑genes (= the units in the cells of a living thing that control its physical characteristics) or ↑genetics (= the study of ↑genes)

• genetic and environmental factors

• genetic abnormalities

Derived Word ↑genetically

Word Origin:

[genetic genetically] mid 19th cent. (originally relating to a common origin): from ↑genesis, on the pattern of pairs such as antithesis, antithetic.

Example Bank:

• A person's intelligence is based on both genetic and environmental factors.

• There are about 4 000 inherited human genetic diseases.

---

genetic

ge net ic /dʒə'netɪk, dʒɪ'netɪk/ BrE AmE adjective

[Date: 1800-1900; Origin: genesis]

relating to ↑genes or ↑genetics:

genetic defects

each person's genetic make-up

genetic research

—genetically /-kli/ adverb:

genetically determined characteristics

---

genetic

125003794MCW

150001902COCA

RANGE: 6k GENETIC 19328

genetic 12688

geneticist 629

geneticists 353

genetically 3074

genetics 2584

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

4396328612688 jj