

substantially[səbˈstænj(ə)li] adv

1. по существу, в основном

I substantially agree with you - я по существу с вами согласен texts substantially free from corruptions - тексты, в сущности не имеющие искажений

2. прочно, основательно, плотно

to dine substantially - плотно пообедать

3. в значительной степени, существенно

this substantially contributed to our success - это в значительной степени способствовало нашему успеху

substantially

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

sub-stan-tial-ly [substantially] BrE [səbˈstænjəli] [ⓘ] NAmE [səbˈstænjəli] [ⓘ]adverb

1. very much; a lot

Syn: ↑considerably

• The costs have increased substantially.

• The plane was substantially damaged in the crash.

• The company's profits have been substantially lower this year.

2. (formal) mainly; in most details, even if not completely

• What she says is substantially true.

substantially

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

sub-stan-tial-ly /səbˈstænjəli/ BrE [ⓘ] AmE [ⓘ] adverb

[Word Family: noun: ↑substance, ↑substantiation, ↑substantive; adjective: ↑substantial ≠ ↑insubstantial, ↑substantive; verb: ↑substantiate; adverb: ↑substantially]

1. very much or a lot SYN considerably:

"substantially higher prices

"The deer population has increased substantially in recent years.

2. used to say that in many ways something is true, the same, different etc SYN essentially:

"There are one or two minor differences, but they're substantially the same text.

substantially

Freakuency Pack

12500 3952^{MCW}15000 1897^{COCA}RANGE: 2k SUBSTANTIAL 19335

substantial 13790

substantially 5545

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

4297 6526⁵⁵³⁶ *rr*9 274854⁹ nnu