

blah1. [bla:] n

1. сл. чепуха, вздор
2. (the blahs) амер. сл. плохое настроение или самочувствие; хандра
I have the blahs - мне что-то не по себе; мне немного нездоровится

2. [bla:] а сл.

- скучный, неинтересный
a blah novel - ≅ мура, а не книга
a blah personality - зануда

blah

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

blah noun, adjective BrE [blaɪ] ^m NAmE [blaɪ] ^m*noun uncountable* (informal)

people say blah, blah, blah, when they do not want to give the exact words that sb has said or written because they think they are not important or are boring

- They said, 'Come in, sit down, blah, blah, blah, sign here'.

Word Origin:

early 20th cent. (originally US): imitative.

adjective (NAmE, informal)

1. not interesting
 - The movie was pretty blah.
2. not feeling well; feeling slightly unhappy
 - I don't know what's wrong with me; I just feel kind of blah.

Word Origin:[blah] early 20th cent. (originally US): imitative.blah

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

I. blah¹ /blaɪ/ BrE ^m AmE ^m noun

[Date: 1900-2000; Origin: From the sound of empty talk]

1. blah, blah, blah spoken used when you do not need to complete what you are saying because it is boring or because the person you are talking to already knows it:

" You know how Michelle talks: 'Tommy did this, and Jesse did that, blah, blah, blah.'

2. [uncountable] British English spoken remarks or statements that are boring and do not mean much:
the usual blah about everyone working harder

3. the blahs [plural] American English informal a feeling of being sad and bored:
a case of the winter blahs

II. blah² BrE ^m AmE ^m adjective American English spoken informal

1. not having an interesting taste, appearance, character etc:

" The chili was kind of blah.

2. slightly ill or unhappy:

" I feel really blah today.

blah

Freakuency Pack

12500 4409^{MCW}15000 7455^{COCA}RANGE: 4k BLAH¹³⁷⁷blah¹³⁷⁷

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

472 17220¹³⁷⁷ uh