

metro

I

[ˈmetrəv] a сокp. om meteorological

metro data /report/ - метеорологический бюллетень

metro message [service] - метеорологическая сводка [служба]

II

[ˈmetrəv] = Metro

II

1. [ˈmetrəv] n

столичный муниципалитет, амер. тж. муниципалитет большого города; администрация столичного округа

2. [ˈmetrəv] a

столичный, относящийся к большому городу с пригородами branch libraries in metro Atlanta - филиалы библиотек в большой Атланте

metro

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

metro [metro metros] noun, adjective BrE ['metrəv] ^m NAmE ['metrou] ^m noun (pl. metros)

1. (also the Metro) singular an underground train system, especially the one in Paris

• to travel on the metro / by metro

• the Paris Metro

• a metro station

2. (IndE) a large or capital city, especially Delhi, Kolkata, Mumbai or Chennai

• Here are the temperatures recorded at the four metros at 5 o'clock this morning.

Word Origin:

early 20th cent.: from French métro, abbreviation of métropolitain (from Chemin de Fer Métropolitain 'Metropolitan Railway').

British/American:

underground / subway / metro / tube

A city's underground railway/railroad system is usually called the underground (often the Underground) in BrE and the subway in NAmE. Speakers of BrE also use subway for systems in American cities and metro for systems in other European countries. The Metro is the name for the systems in Paris and Washington, D.C. London's system is often called the Tube.

adjective (NAmE, informal) = ↑ metropolitan

• the New York metro areas

Word Origin:

early 20th cent.: from French métro, abbreviation of métropolitain (from Chemin de Fer Métropolitain 'Metropolitan Railway').

metro

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

metro /'metrəv $ -trəv/ BrE ^m AmE ^m noun (plural metros) [countable]

[Date: 1900-2000; Language: French; Origin: métro, from (chemin de fer) métropolitain 'metropolitan railway']

a railway system that runs under the ground below a city:

" the Paris Metro

" It'll be quicker to go on the metro.

" a metro station

metro

Freakuency Pack

12500 4543^{MCW}

15000 4789^{COCA}

RANGE: 4k METRO ⁶⁶⁵³

metro ⁶⁶¹⁵

metros ³⁸

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

1798 9380³³⁷⁴ nn1

1560 9625³²⁴¹ np1