

yesterday*1. ['jestədi] n*1) вчерашний день

the day before yesterday - позавчера, третьего дня yesterday's newspaper - вчерашняя газета yesterday was cold and rainy - вчера лил дождь и было холодно

2) недавнее прошлое

it is but of yesterday - это только недавно появилось an invention of yesterday - изобретение последнего времени all pomp of yesterday - вся недавняя пышность fashions of yesterday - вчерашняя мода

2. pl книжн. прошлое, былое*2. ['jestədi] a редк.*1) вчерашний yesterday morning - а) вчерашнее утро; б) вчера утром yesterday evening - а) вчерашний вечер; б) вчера вечером

2) недавний*3. ['jestədi] adv*1) вчера

he arrived yesterday - он приехал вчера

2) только вчера, недавно

I was not born yesterday - я не вчера (на свет) родился towns that yesterday were hamlets - города, которые ещё вчера /совсем недавно/ были деревушками

yesterday

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

yes·ter·day [yesterday yesterday's] adverb, noun, adjective BrE ['jestədəɪ]

NAme ['jestədeɪ] BrE ['jestədi] NAme ['jestərdi]

adverb

on the day before today

- They arrived yesterday.
- I can remember our wedding as if it were yesterday.
- Where were you yesterday morning?
- To think I was lying on a beach only the day before yesterday.

see not be born yesterday at ↑born v.Word Origin:

Old English giestran dæg (from yester- Old English geostran, of Germanic origin + ↑day).

noun uncountable*1. the day before today

- Yesterday was Sunday.
- What happened at yesterday's meeting?

2. (also yes·ter·days plural) the recent past

- Yesterday's students are today's employees.
- All her yesterdays had vanished without a trace.

Word Origin:

Old English giestran dæg (from yester- Old English geostran, of Germanic origin + ↑day).

Example Bank:

- Yesterday's students are today's employees.

adjective not before noun (informal, often humorous)

no longer fashionable or new

- Email— that's so yesterday !
- PCs are so yesterday.

Word Origin:

Old English giestran dæg (from yester- Old English geostran, of Germanic origin + ↑day).

yesterday

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

I. yes·ter·day<sup>1</sup> S1 W1 /'jestədi, -deɪ $ -ər-/ BrE AmE adverb

[Language: Old English; Origin: giestran dæg, from giestran 'yesterday' + dæg 'day']

on or during the day before today ⇒ tomorrow:

What did you do yesterday?

yesterday morning/afternoon/eveningAnna left yesterday afternoon. ⇒ I wasn't born yesterday at ↑born<sup>2</sup>(5)II. yesterday<sup>2</sup> BrE AmE noun [uncountable]

1. the day before today ⇒ tomorrow :

" yesterday's meeting

" They arrived the day before yesterday.

2. the recent past:

" the great champions of yesterday

3. yesterday's news information that is old and no longer interesting

---

yesterday

Freakuency Pack

12500 510<sup>MCW</sup>

15000 1506<sup>COCA</sup>

RANGE: 1k YESTERDAY <sup>27201</sup>

yesterday <sup>27092</sup>

yesterdays <sup>109</sup>

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

<sup>14472</sup> 1563<sup>27067</sup> rt

<sup>13</sup> 215292<sup>14</sup> nn1

<sup>11</sup> 244522<sup>11</sup> jj

---