

revival[rɪˈvaɪv(ə)]n

1. 1) возрождение
RevivalStyle - архит. стиль Ренессанс
a revivalof interest - оживление интереса
a revivalof traditions - возрождение традиций
 - 2) расцвет, возрождение
revivalof architecture, Gothic revival- возрождение готической архитектуры в XIXв.
Revivalof Learning /of Letters, of Literature/ - Возрождение, Ренессанс (в литературе)
 2. 1) возвращение к жизни
 - 2) восстановление сил
 3. пробуждение
the revivalof a whole continent - пробуждение целого континента
 4. появление вновь; возобновление (пьесы, фильма)
 5. юр. возобновление (договора, судебного решения)
 6. рел.
- 1) возрождение веры
 - 2) собрание членов секты «возрожденцев»; религиозное бдение (мж. revivalmeeting)

revival

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

re·vi·val [revival revivals] BrE [rɪˈvaɪv] ^ˈ NAmE [rɪˈvaɪv] ^ˈ noun

1. uncountable, countable an improvement in the condition or strength of sth
 - the revivalof trade
 - an economic revival
 - a revival of interest in folk music
 - a revivalof property values
2. countable, uncountable the process of sth becoming or being made popular or fashionable again
 - a religious revival
 - Jazz is enjoying a revival
3. countable a new production of a play that has not been performed for some time
 - a revivalof Peter Shaffer's 'Equus'

Example Bank:

- He claimed the market was showing signs of a revival
- His work is enjoying a revivalin popularity.
- The economy has staged something of a revivalin the last year.
- The exhibition has sparked a revivalof interest in the Impressionists.
- The late 19th century was a time of religious revival
- The period saw a great revivalin the wine trade.
- a revivalin the fortunes of the Democratic Party
- a revivalof ancient skills
- the revivalof interest in local radio

revival

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

re·vi·val /rɪˈvaɪvəl/ BrE ^ˈ AmE ^ˈ noun

1. [uncountable and countable] a process in which something becomes active or strong again:
 - ˈ The US and the UK have expectations of economic revival.
- revivalof
 - ˈ A revivalof the timber industry is needed.
 - ˈ There has been a revivalof interest in Picasso's work.
2. [uncountable and countable] when something becomes popular again
 - revivalof/in
 - ˈ the recent revivalin medieval music
 - ˈ a revivalof organized religion
 - ˈ Traditional English food seems to be enjoying a revivalat the moment.
3. [countable] a new production of a play that has not been performed for a long time:
 - ˈ Neeson was excellent in a revivalof Eugene O'Neill's 'Anna Christie'.
4. [countable] a [↑]revivalmeeting

revival

Freakuency Pack

12500 5658^{MCW}15000 2874^{COCA}RANGE: 4k REVIVE ⁹¹⁵⁵revive²⁰⁴⁴revived¹⁹²²revives¹⁸³reviving⁸⁸⁰revival⁴¹²⁶

