

hare1. [heə] n*1. 1) заяц

buck hare - заяц-самец

doe hare - зайчиха

to start a hare - охот. поднять зайца [см. тж. ]2) зоол. заяц обыкновенный (Lepus gen.)European hare - заяц-русак (Lepus europaeus)alpine hare - заяц-беляк (Lepus timidus)2. 1) амер. кролик*2) мех кролика*3. крольчатина; зайчатина*4. разг. безбилетный пассажир, «заяц»*5. (Hare) астр. Заяц (созвездие) to make a hare of smb. - выставлять кого-л. в глупом видеto start a hare - затевать спор (обычно отвлекающий от основной темы) [см. тж. 1, 1)]

to stand another hare - переменить тему; поднять новый вопрос mad as a (March) hare - а) обезумевший, одержимый; б) эксцентричный, с заскоком

as timid as a hare - трусливый как заяц

to run with the hare and hunt with the hounds, to hold with the hare and run with the hounds - посл. \cong служить и нашим и вашим;

вести двойную игру

first catch your hare (then cook him) - посл. \cong цыплят по осени считают, не говори «гоп», пока не перепрыгнешь2. [heə] v разг.бежать, мчаться как заяц (тж. hare away; hare off)

to hare it - убежать со всех ног, удирать

hare off after him and tell him to come back - поскорее догони его и скажи, чтобы возвращался harehare [hare hares hared haring] noun, verb BrE [heə(r)] ^ˈ NAme [heɪ] ^ˈnoun

rabbit

hare

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

an animal like a large \uparrow rabbit with very strong back legs, that can run very fastsee mad as a hatter/March hare at \uparrow madWord Origin:Old English hara, of Germanic origin: related to Dutch haas and German Hase.verb intransitive + adv./prep. (BrE)

to run or go somewhere very fast

- He hared away down the street.
- She's always haring off to France on business.
- to go haring around the country

Verb forms:

verb forms
present simple
I / you / we / they	hare
	BrE /heə(r)/
	NAme /heɪ/
he / she / it	hares
	BrE /heəz/
	NAme /heɪz/
past simple, past participle	hared
	BrE /hed/
	NAme /hed/
-ing form	haring
	BrE /heərɪŋ/
	NAme /heɪrɪŋ/

Word Origin:Old English hara, of Germanic origin: related to Dutch haas and German Hase.Example Bank:

- She'd sent him haring back to his apartment, telling him an urgent letter had arrived

hare¹ /heə $ her/ BrE^u AmE^u noun (plural hare or hares) [countable]

[Language: Old English; Origin: hara]

an animal like a rabbit but larger, which can run very quickly

II. hare² BrE^u AmE^u verb [intransitive always + adverb/preposition]

British English informal to run or go very fast

hare off

^u He hared off down the road.

hare

Frequency Pack

12500 5975^{MCW}

15000 9025^{COCA}

RANGE: 5k HARE⁹²¹

hare⁶⁶⁶

hares²⁵⁵

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

³⁰⁹ 27884⁶³⁰ nn1

⁵ 130461³⁶ np1