

radiate1. ['reɪdiət] v

- 1) лучистый, расходящийся лучами
- 2) звездообразный
- 3) окружённый сиянием (об изображении)

2. ['reɪdiət] v

- 1) 1) излучать (свет, тепло); испускать (лучи)
plutonium radiates dangerous emissions - плутоний испускает опасные излучения
- 2) излучаться
the heat that radiates from the sun - тепло, излучаемое солнцем
2. сиять, лучиться (о глазах и т. п.)
he radiates health - он пышет здоровьем her eyes radiated love and joy - её глаза лучились /светились/ любовью и счастьем happiness radiates from her eyes - её глаза сияют /лучатся/ счастьем
3. расходиться лучами; исходить из одной точки (о лучах, линиях)
six avenues radiate from the square - от площади лучами расходятся шесть проспектов
4. распространять
an orator that radiates enthusiasm - оратор, заражающий (слушателей) энтузиазмом she radiates happiness wherever she goes - она всюду сеет счастье

radiate

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

ra-di-ate [radiate radiates radiated radiating] BrE ['reɪdiət] AmE ['reɪdiət]verb

1. transitive, intransitive ~ (sth) | ~ (from sb) if a person radiates a particular quality or emotion, or if it radiates from them, people can see it very clearly
• He radiated self-confidence and optimism.
2. intransitive, transitive ~ (from sth) | ~ (sth) if sth radiates heat, light or energy or heat, etc. radiates from it, the heat is sent out in all directions
Syn: give (something) off
• Heat radiates from the stove.
3. intransitive + adv./prep. (of lines, etc.) to spread out in all directions from a central point
• Five roads radiate from the square.
• The pain started in my stomach and radiated all over my body.

Verb forms:

| verb forms | |
|------------------------------|---------------------------|
| present simple | |
| I / you / we / they | radiate |
| | BrE / 'reɪdiət/ |
| | NAme / 'reɪdiət/ |
| he / she / it | radiates |
| | BrE / 'reɪdiəts/ |
| | NAme / 'reɪdiəts/ |
| past simple, past participle | radiated |
| | BrE / 'reɪdiətɪd/ |
| | NAme / 'reɪdiətɪd/ |
| -ing form | radiating |
| | BrE / 'reɪdiətɪŋ/ |
| | NAme / 'reɪdiətɪŋ/ |

Word Origin:early 17th cent.: from Latin radiat- 'emitted in rays', from the verb radiare, from radius 'ray, spoke'.Example Bank:

- the energy that seemed to radiate from her
- the paths radiating out from the village

radiate

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

ra-di-ate /'reɪdiət/ BrE AmE verb

[Date: 1600-1700; Language: Latin; Origin: past participle of radiare, from radius; ⇨ ↑radius]

1. [intransitive and transitive] if someone radiates a feeling, or if it radiates from them, it is very easy to see that this is how they feel:
He radiated calm confidence.
radiate from
Kindness radiated from her.
2. [intransitive always + adverb/preposition, transitive] if something radiates light or heat, or if light or heat radiates from something, the light or heat is sent out in all directions:
The log fire radiated a warm cosy glow.
radiate from
Heat radiated from the glowing coals.
3. [intransitive always + adverb/preposition] if things radiate from a central point, they spread out in different directions from that point radiate out/from
There were tiny lines radiating from the corners of her eyes.

radiate12500 6055^{MCW}15000 2682^{COCA}RANGE: 5k RADIATE 10458

radiate 547

radiated 610

radiating 635

radiates 427

radiation 8179

radiations 60

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

254 44032²⁸² *vv0*209 49488²²⁷ *vvj*38 125196³⁸ nn1