

cereal

1. [ˈsi(ə)rɪəl] n
 - 1) хлебный злак
 - 2) pl зерновые хлеба
2. амер. изделия из дроблёного зерна (кукурузные хлопья и т. п.); овсянка, овсяная каша patent cereals - сухие полуфабрикаты из дроблёного зерна

cereal

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

ce-ri-al [cereal cereals] BrE [ˈsiəriəl] AmE [ˈsiriəl] noun

1. countable one of various types of grass that produce grains that can be eaten or are used to make flour or bread. Wheat, barley and rye are all cereals
 - cereal crops
2. uncountable the grain produced by cereal crops
3. countable, uncountable food made from the grain of cereals, often eaten for breakfast with milk
 - breakfast cereals
 - a bowl of cereal

Word Origin:

early 19th cent. (as an adjective): from Latin cerealis, from Ceres, the goddess of agriculture in Roman mythology.

Example Bank:

- I have cereal for breakfast.
- a big bowl of cereal
- a wholewheat cereal fortified with B group vitamins
- fortified breakfast cereals

cereal

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

ce-ri-al S3 /ˈsiəriəl $ ˈsɪr-/ BrE AmE noun

[Date: 1800-1900; Language: French; Origin: céréale, from Latin cerealis 'of Ceres', from Ceres ancient Roman goddess of grain and farming]

bowl of cereal

1. [uncountable and countable] a breakfast food made from grain and usually eaten with milk:
 a bowl of breakfast cereal
2. [countable] a plant grown to produce grain, for example wheat, rice etc:
 cereal crops

cereal

Freakuency Pack

12500 6536^{MCW}
 15000 4640^{COCA}
 RANGE: 4k CEREAL 3667
 cereal 3022
 cereals 645
 COCA 500k Unlemmatized
 1800 10128³⁰²² nn1