

enjoy[ɪn'dʒɔɪ] *v*1. любить (что-л.), получать удовольствие (от чего-л.)

to enjoy music [poetry] - любить музыку [поэзию]

he enjoys life = он жизнелюб

2. мж. refl наслаждаться (чем-л.); веселиться, хорошо проводить время did you enjoy your holiday? - вы хорошо провели отпуск?

did you enjoy the film? - вам понравился этот фильм?

to enjoy one's meal - есть с аппетитом

he enjoyed himself in the Crimea - он весело провёл время в Крыму

3. пользоваться, обладать, иметь

to enjoy good [bad] health - иметь хорошее [плохое] здоровье, отличаться хорошим [плохим] здоровьем

to enjoy a good reputation - пользоваться доброй славой

to enjoy diplomatic privileges - пользоваться дипломатическими привилегиями

to enjoy rights - обладать правами

4. улучшаться, усовершенствоваться

automobile manufacturers enjoyed a six-percent rise in sales over the past year - за прошлый год производители автомобилей

увеличили продажу машин на 6%

5. обладать (женщиной)enjoy

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

enjoy [enjoy enjoys enjoyed enjoying] BrE [ɪn'dʒɔɪ] ^m NAme [ɪn'dʒɔɪ] ^e *verb*1. transitive to get pleasure from sth• ~ sth We thoroughly enjoyed our time in New York.• Thanks for a great evening. I really enjoyed it.• ~ doing sth I enjoy playing tennis and squash.2. transitive ~ yourself to be happy and get pleasure from what you are doing

• They all enjoyed themselves at the party.

3. transitive ~ sth (formal) to have sth good that is an advantage to you

• People in this country enjoy a high standard of living.

• He's always enjoyed good health.

4. intransitive enjoy! (informal) used to say that you hope sb gets pleasure from sth that you are giving them or recommending to them

• Here's that book I promised you. Enjoy!

Verb forms:

verb forms
present simple
I / you / we / they	enjoy
	BrE /ɪn 'dʒɔɪ/
	NAme /ɪn 'dʒɔɪ/
he / she / it	enjoys
	BrE /ɪn 'dʒɔɪz/
	NAme /ɪn 'dʒɔɪz/
past simple, past participle	enjoyed
	BrE /ɪn 'dʒɔɪd/
	NAme /ɪn 'dʒɔɪd/
-ing form	enjoying
	BrE /ɪn 'dʒɔɪɪŋ/
	NAme /ɪn 'dʒɔɪɪŋ/

Word Origin:late Middle English: from Old French enjoier 'give joy to' or enjoïr 'enjoy', both based on Latin gaudere 'rejoice'.Thesaurus:enjoy *verb*1. T

• We thoroughly enjoyed our time in New York.

relish • revel in sth • |sometimes disapproving wallow in sth • |BrE, especially written savour • |AmE, especially written savor •enjoy/relish/revel in doing sthenjoy/relish/revel in/savour the momentenjoy/relish/revel in the attention/your freedomenjoy/relish a challenge2. enjoy yourself

• The kids really enjoyed themselves at the party.

have fun • |informal have a good/great time •Let's enjoy ourselves/have fun/have a good time.Grammar Point:enjoy

Note the following patterns:

▪ I enjoyed myself at the party. ◇ I enjoyed at the party.

▪ Thanks. I really enjoyed it. ◇ Thanks. I really enjoyed.

- I enjoy playing basketball. ◇ I enjoy to play basketball.
- I enjoy reading very much. ◇ I enjoy very much reading.
- I hope you enjoy your trip. ◇ I hope you enjoy with your trip.

Example Bank:

- Everyone seemed to be enjoying themselves.
- I simply enjoy the feeling of power.
- I was just beginning to enjoy it when the rain came down.
- She greatly enjoys her work.
- The kids all seemed to enjoy themselves.
- We enjoyed the game immensely.
- Departmental managers enjoy considerable autonomy in the workplace.
- He has always enjoyed good health.
- Here's that book I promised you. Enjoy!
- I hope you enjoy your trip.
- Thanks for a great evening I really enjoyed it.

enjoy

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

enjoy S1 W1 /ɪn'dʒɔɪ/ BrE ^ˈ AmE ^ˈ verb [transitive]

[Word Family: verb: ↑enjoy; noun: ↑enjoyment; adverb: ↑enjoyably; adjective: ↑enjoyable]

[Date: 1300-1400; Language: Old French; Origin: enjoir, from Latin gaudere 'to show great happiness']

1. to get pleasure from something:

- Sandra enjoys her job in the city.
- I enjoyed every minute of it.

enjoy doing something

- Young children enjoy helping around the house.

enjoy yourself (=be happy in a particular situation)

- Julia was just starting to enjoy herself.

► Enjoy always has an object and is never followed by a preposition or an infinitive with 'to': Did you enjoy it (NOT Did you enjoy)? | I enjoyed my trip (NOT I enjoyed to/with my trip). | He enjoys playing football (NOT He enjoys to play football).

2. formal to have a particular ability or advantage:

- These workers enjoy a high level of job security.

3. enjoy! spoken used to say that you hope someone gets pleasure from something you give them:

- Here's your steak – enjoy!

enjoy

Freakuency Pack

12500 679^{MCW}

15000 925^{COCA}

RANGE: 1k ENJOY 50766

enjoy 23236

enjoyed 12707

enjoying 6643

enjoyment 2701

enjoys 3609

enjoyable 1863

unenjoyable 7

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

10220 3359¹²³⁷⁷ vvi

8982 3739¹⁰⁸⁵⁹ vv0