

farewell

1. [feə'vel] n
 - 1) прощание
to bid one's farewell, to take farewell of, to make one's farewells - прощаться
 - 2) прощальный приём гостей (перед отъездом и т. п.); «отвальная» (мж. farewell party)
2. [feə'vel] a прощальный
farewell smile [speech, look] - прощальная улыбка [речь, -ый взгляд]
3. [feə'vel] v
прощаться
4. [feə'vel] int
прощай!
farewell to the holidays! - прощайте, праздники!

farewell

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

fare-well [farewell farewells] noun, exclamation BrE [ˌfeə'vel] ^u NAmE [ˌfer'vel]

noun countable, uncountable

the act of saying goodbye to sb

- She said her farewells and left.
- Maria raised her hand in farewell.
- a farewell party/drink, etc.

Word Origin:

late Middle English: from the imperative of fare + the adverb well.

Example Bank:

- I said a silent farewell to my home as I left for the city.
- I waved farewell to my friends from the deck of the ship.
- Is this farewell or will we see each other again?
- Let me give her a farewell kiss.
- She was sorry to bid farewell to Portugal.
- The court dignitaries made their farewells to the emperor.
- The families made their farewells to each other.
- The team was given an emotional farewell by a crowd of 500 000.
- They exchanged fond farewells at the railway station.
- This famous warplane is about to make its farewell appearance.
- We bade them a final farewell.
- a farewell letter to my family
- the band's farewell tour

exclamation (old use or formal)

goodbye

Word Origin:

late Middle English: from the imperative of fare + the adverb well.

verb ~ sb (AustralE)

to arrange a ceremony or party for sb because they are leaving

- The troops were farewelled at a ceremony in Darwin.
- The champion was farewelled at a state funeral.

Verb forms: verb forms

present simple
I / you / we /they	farewell
	BrE / ˌfeə'vel/
	NAmE / ˌfer'vel/
he / she /it	farewells
	BrE / ˌfɪə'velz/
	NAmE / ˌfer'velz/
past simple, past participle	farewelled
	BrE / ˌfeə'veld/
	NAmE / ˌfer'veld/
-ing form	farewelling
	BrE / ˌfeə'velɪŋ/
	NAmE / ˌfer'velɪŋ/

Word Origin:

late Middle English: from the imperative of fare + the adverb well.

farewellI. farewell¹ /,feə'wel· $,fer-/ BrE ["] AmE ["] *noun*1. [uncountable and countable] old-fashioned the action of saying goodbye:

" Mourners gathered to bid farewell to the victims of the plane tragedy.
 " a farewell speech

2. farewell party/dinner/drink etc a party or dinner that you have because someone is leaving a job, city etc:

" 40 of her colleagues gathered for her farewell presentation.

II. farewell² BrE ["] AmE ["] interjection old use

goodbye

farewell

Frequency Pack

12500 6912^{MCW}15000 5572^{COCA}RANGE: 6k FAREWELL 2516

farewell 2354

farewells 162

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

1693 13300²⁰⁴² *nn1*267 41655³¹² uh