

discontent

1. [ˌdɪskən'tent] n

недовольство, неудовлетворённость; недовольствие; досада

general discontent - общее недовольство

popular discontent - недовольство народа

worker discontent - недовольство /возмущение/ рабочих

discontent with smth. - недовольство чем-л.

discontent among workers can boil over - недовольство рабочих может привести к взрыву; чаша терпения рабочих может переполниться

2. [ˌdɪskən'tent] a

недовольный, неудовлетворённый, раздосадованный

3. [ˌdɪskən'tent] v редк.

вызывать недовольство, досаду

discontent

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

dis·con·tent [discontent discontents discontented discontenting] BrE

[ˌdɪskən'tent] NAmE [ˌdɪskən'tent] BrE (also dis·con·tent·ment BrE [ˌdɪskən'tentmənt] BrE; NAmE [ˌdɪskən'tentmənt] NAmE) noun

uncountable, countable ~ (at/over/with sth)

a feeling of being unhappy because you are not satisfied with a particular situation; sth that makes you have this feeling

Syn: ↑dissatisfaction

- There is widespread discontent among the staff at the proposed changes to pay and conditions.
- (formal) There are a wide variety of popular discontents which need discussing.

compare ↑contentment

Example Bank:

- Overcrowded conditions fuelled discontent and facilitated the spread of radical ideas.
- Overcrowded conditions will only fuel discontent among prisoners.
- Public discontent with the economy remained at a high level.
- The country was seething with discontent and the threat of revolution was real.
- The higher tax provoked widespread discontent among the poor.
- The peasants expressed their discontent.
- The reforms failed to stem social discontent.
- There were reports of growing discontent within the army.
- discontent among students about the lack of funding for education
- discontent among the workforce
- growing discontent with the government
- the discontent that many people felt

discontent

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

dis·con·tent /ˌdɪskən'tent/ BrE AmE (also dis·con·tent·ment /ˌdɪskən'tentmənt/) noun

[uncountable]

a feeling of being unhappy and not satisfied with the situation you are in OPP contentment

discontent with

- Discontent with the current government is strong.

discontent at/over

- There is widespread discontent at the quality of education.
- Perhaps she sensed my growing discontent.

discontent

Freakuency Pack

12500 7241^{MCW}

15000 6764^{COCA}

RANGE: 6k DISCONTENT¹⁶⁹⁶

discontent¹⁴⁹¹

discontented¹⁹¹

discontentment¹⁴

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

1191 16565¹⁴⁶¹ nn1

30 141724³⁰ jj