

detriment

1. [ˈdetrɪmənt] n

1. ущерб, вред

to the detriment of smth. - в ущерб /во вред/ чему-л.

without detriment to smth. - без ущерба для чего-л.

I know nothing to his detriment - я не знаю о нём ничего предосудительного

2. pl проф. взносы, сборы (в университетах)

2. [ˈdetrɪmənt] v

причинять или наносить ущерб

detriment

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

det-ri-ment BrE [ˈdetrɪmənt] <sup>ˈ</sup> NAmE [ˈdetrɪmənt] <sup>ˈ</sup> noun uncountable,

countable, usually singular (formal)

the act of causing harm or damage; sth that causes harm or damage

- Wood accounts for 90% of energy production in some countries, with consequent environmental detriment.

Idioms: ↑somebody detriment ▪ ↑the detriment of somebody ▪ ↑without detriment

Word Origin:

[detriment] late Middle English in the sense 'loss sustained by damage': from Old French, from Latin detrimentum, from detri-, stem of deterere 'wear away' .

Example Bank:

- The tax cannot be introduced without detriment to people's living standards.
- Too many tests are a detriment to good education.

detriment

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

det ri ment /ˈdetrɪmənt, ˈdetrɪmənt/ BrE <sup>ˈ</sup> AmE <sup>ˈ</sup> noun [uncountable] formal

[Date: 1400-1500; Language: Latin; Origin: detrimentum, from deterere 'to rub away']

harm or damage

to the detriment of something (=resulting in harm or damage to something)

<sup>ˈ</sup> He worked very long hours, to the detriment of his marriage.

detriment

Freakuency Pack

12500 7540<sup>MCW</sup>

15000 5938<sup>COCA</sup>

RANGE: 5k DETRIMENT <sup>2206</sup>

detriment <sup>758</sup>

detriments <sup>29</sup>

detrimental <sup>1404</sup>

detrimentally <sup>15</sup>

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

<sup>703</sup> 24961<sup>758</sup> nn1