

provision1. [prə'vɪz(ə)n] n*1. снабжение, обеспечение

provision of necessaries - снабжение предметами первой необходимости provision of housing - обеспечение жильём; предоставление жилья to make provision for one's family - а) кормить семью; б) обеспечить семью (на будущее)

to make provision for the future - обеспечить своё будущее, позаботиться о будущем

2. 1) заготовление, заготовка, запасание; запасprovision action - воен. заготовительные операции

to make provision for a journey - запастись всем необходимым для путешествия

2) эк. резерв

provision for bad and doubtful debts - резерв на покрытие безнадёжных и сомнительных долгов

3. обыкн. pl провизия, съестные припасы, пищевые продукты; запасы провианта provisions are plentiful - съестные припасы имеются в изобилии provision merchant /dealer/ - арх. торговец продовольственными товарамиprovision shop - редк. гастроном4. (against) мера предосторожности

to make provision against attack by air - принять меры предосторожности против воздушного нападения to make provision against unforeseen expenses - предусмотреть непредвиденные расходы

no provision has been made for it - это не было предусмотрено, об этом не позаботились

5. положение, условие (договора, закона и т. п.); постановлениеtreaty provisions - постановления договора; условия или пункты договора provisions of a lease - условия арендного договора provision of law - постановление закона

to come within the provisions of the law - подпадать под закон /под действие закона/

Provisions of Oxford - устм. «Оксфордские определения /провизии/» (1258 г.)to make provision(s) - а) постановлять, предусматривать; обеспечивать; включать условия; б) распорядиться (имуществом и т. п.); в) резервировать деньги6. *церк.1) предоставление бенефиция до открытия вакансии*2) назначение на церковную должность*2. [prə'vɪz(ə)n] v

снабжать продовольствием

provision

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

pro-vi-sion [provision provisions provisioned provisioning] noun, verb BrE[prə'vɪzɪn] ¹ NAmE [prə'vɪzɪŋ] ²

noun

1. uncountable, countable, usually singular the act of supplying sb with sth that they need or want; sth that is supplied

- housing provision
- The government is responsible for the provision of health care.
- There is no provision for anyone to sit down here.
- The provision of specialist teachers is being increased.

2. uncountable, countable ~ for sb/sth preparations that you make for sth that might or will happen in the future

- He had already made provisions for (= planned for the financial future of) his wife and children before the accident.
- You should make provision for things going wrong.
- Small businesses are advised to make adequate provisions against bad debts.
- The plans for developing the area include provision for both water and field sports.

3. provisions plural supplies of food and drink, especially for a long journey

- We have enough provisions to last us two weeks.

4. countable a condition or an arrangement in a legal document

- Under the provisions of the lease, the tenant is responsible for repairs.

see also ↑provideWord Origin:late Middle English (also in the sense 'foresight'): via Old French from Latin provisio(n)-, from providere 'foresee, attend to', from pro- 'before' + videre 'to see'. The verb dates from the early 19th cent.Example Bank:

- Several companies are responsible for the provision of cleaning services.
- The Act contains detailed provisions for appeal against the court's decision.
- The law contained a sunset provision, requiring Congress to re-authorize it in 2008.
- The same provisions apply to foreign-owned companies.
- They had made all kinds of provisions against bad weather.
- We went into town to stock up on provisions.
- provisions contained in the contract
- He had already made provisions for his children before the accident.
- Specific provisions had been made for foreign nationals.
- The company had made provisions against falls in land prices.

- You need to make adequate provision for your retirement.
- educational/housing provision verb often passive ~ sb/sth (with sth) (formal) to supply sb/sth with enough of sth, especially food, to last for a particular period of time

Verb forms:

verb forms
present simple
I / you / we / they	provision
	BrE /prəˈvɪʒn/
	NAme /prəˈvɪʒn/
he / she / it	provisions
	BrE /prəˈvɪʒnz/
	NAme /prəˈvɪʒnz/
past simple, past participle	provisioned
	BrE /prəˈvɪʒnd/
	NAme /prəˈvɪʒnd/
-ing form	provisioning
	BrE /prəˈvɪʒnɪŋ/
	NAme /prəˈvɪʒnɪŋ/

Word Origin:

late Middle English (also in the sense 'foresight'): via Old French from Latin provisio(n), from providere 'foresee, attend to', from pro- 'before' + videre 'to see'. The verb dates from the early 19th cent.

Example Bank:

- The main business of the port is to provision passing ocean liners.

provision

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

I. pro·vi·sion¹ S3 W1 /prəˈvɪʒən/ BrE ^ˈ AmE ^ˈ noun

[Word Family: noun: ↑provide, ↑provision, provisions; verb: ↑provide, ↑provision; adverb: ↑provisionally; adjective: ↑provisional]

[Date: 1300-1400; Language: French; Origin: Late Latin provisio, from Latin providere ⇒ ↑provide]

1. [countable usually singular, uncountable] when you provide something that someone needs now or in the future provision of the provision of childcare facilities provision for provision for people with disabilities

He made provisions for his wife and his children in his will.

2. provisions [plural] food, drink, and other supplies, especially for a journey:

We had enough provisions for two weeks.

3. [countable] a condition in an agreement or law:

The agreement includes a provision for each side to check the other side's weapons.

under the provisions of something

Under the provisions of the Act, employers must supply safety equipment.

II. provision² BrE ^ˈ AmE ^ˈ verb [transitive] formal

[Word Family: noun: ↑provide, ↑provision, provisions; verb: ↑provide, ↑provision; adverb: ↑provisionally; adjective: ↑provisional]

to provide someone or something with a lot of food and supplies, especially for a journey

provision

Freakuency Pack

12500 757^{MCW}

15000 2276^{COCA}

RANGE: 4k PROVISION 13952

provision ⁶⁹⁴⁹

provisions ⁷⁰⁰³

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

3846 5461⁶⁹¹⁸ nn1

17 140726³¹ nnu