diligent

['dɪlɪdʒ(ə)nt] a

1. прилежный, усердный, старательный
2. неустанный; кропотливый (о работе)
   diligent cultivation (of smth.) - пестование (чего-л.)
3. уст. внимательный заботливый

---

diligent

dili·gent BrE ['dɪlɪdʒənt]   NAmE ['dɪlɪdʒənt]   adjective (formal)

showing care and effort in your work or duties
   • a diligent student/worker
   Derived Word ↑diligently

Word Origin:
   [diligent diligently] Middle English: via Old French from Latin diligens, diligent- 'assiduous', from diligere 'love, take delight in'.

Example Bank:
   • The report recognized that he was a diligent student.

---

diligent

dil·i·gent /'dɪlədʒənt, 'dɪlɪdʒənt/ BrE   AmE   adjective

[Date: 1300-1400; Language: French; Origin: Latin, present participle of diligere 'to put high value on, love] someone who is diligent works hard and is careful and thorough:

   a diligent student
—diligently adverb:
   They worked diligently all morning.
—diligence noun [uncountable]

---

diligent

125007780MCW
150005844COCA
RANGE: 6k DILIGENT 2296
   diligent 776
   diligently 786
   diligence 734
   diligences 0
COCA 500k Unlemmatized
   72724638776 jj