

1. ['vɪzɪt] n

1) визит, посещение; пребывание в гостях courtesy visit - дип. визит вежливостиgoodwill visit - дип. визит доброй волиmutual /reciprocal/ visits - дип. взаимные визиты social visit - светский или дружественный визит to return a visit - ответить на /нанести ответный визит to make /to pay/ a state [an official, a friendly, a two-day] visit to a country - находиться в стране с государственным [официальным дружественным, двухдневным] визитом to arrive in a country on a working [a return] visit - прибыть в страну с рабочим [ответным] визитом to make a visit to a neighbour - навестить соседа; зайти к соседу to make a visit to a patient - посетить больного to receive /to have/ a visit from smb. - принимать кого-л.

we had a visit from our neighbours - к нам приходили /у нас были в гостях/ соседи to go out on a visit - пойти в гости

we had a visit from a tax collector [from a policeman] - к нам приходил сборщик налогов [полицейский]

2) посещение, осмотр

visit to a museum [to a theatre, to a gallery] - посещение музея [театра галереи]

visit to the scene of the crime - выезд на место преступления

3) временное пребывание; поездка to be on a visit to smb. - гостить у кого-л.

I don't live here, I am only on a visit - я здесь не живу, я приезжий

a brief visit to Ireland - кратковременная поездка в Ирландию

we decided to prolong our visit to Rome - мы решили продлить своё пребывание в Риме

2. амер. разг. дружеская беседа

I have much enjoyed this pleasant visit - очень было приятно с вами поговорить

3. *юр.*1) осмотр, обыск (преим. судов)

2) остановка и проверка документов судна в открытом море, визитация

4. воен. поверка (караулов)2. ['vɪzɪt] *v*1) 1) навещать (кого-л.); заходить (к кому-л.), приходить в гости to visit an old friend - навестить старого друга

a doctor visits his patients - врач посещает больных

2) посещать (что-л.); бывать (где-л.); ходить, ездить (куда-л.) to visit foreign countries - ездить в чужие страны /за границу/to visit a school - ознакомиться со школой to visit a shipyard - побывать на верфи to visit a factory - посетить завод

I hope to visit Rome - надеюсь побывать в Риме

we had no time to visit the Tower - нам было некогда осмотреть Тауэр a spot visited by few - уголок, где почти никто не бывает place never visited by the sun - место, куда не заглядывает солнце

3) гастролировать

4) преим. амер. (with, in, at) гостить, быть чьим-л. гостем; останавливаться временно пребывать to visit in the country - гостить в деревне to visit at a new hotel - остановиться в новой гостинице visiting in Paris - находясь /во время пребывания/ в Париже

I'll visit with mother tomorrow - завтрашний день я проведу у матери

5) быть постоянным посетителем to visit pubs - быть завсегдаем пивных

2. постигать, поражать (о болезни, бедствии) famine often visits this area - этот район часто страдает от голода visited by /with/ a disease - поражённый болезнью

the poet was visited by fits of gloom - на поэта находили приступы уныния

3. юр.

1) производить осмотр, инспектировать to visit the scene of the crime - осматривать место преступления

2) обыскивать

4. амер. разг. беседовать, болтать to visit over the telephone - поговорить по телефону

after the concert I visited with the pianist - после концерта я разговаривал с пианистом

5. *арх.*1) мстить, карать, наказывать, вымещать (что-л. на ком-л.); насылать (что-л.)

to visit with punishment - насылать наказание to visit the sins [the iniquity] of the fathers upon the children - наказывать детей за грехи [за вину] отцов do not visit on us the blood of these men - пусть кровь этих людей не падёт на наши головы

2) утешать, вознаграждать; благословлять (чем-л.)

visit [visit visits visited visiting] verb, noun BrE ['vɪzɪt] ^m NAmE ['vɪzɪt] ^m verb

- transitive ~ sb/sth to go to see a person or a place for a period of time
 - She went to visit relatives in Wales.
 - The Prime Minister is visiting Japan at the moment.
 - You should visit your dentist at least twice a year.
 - This is an area rarely visited by Europeans.
- transitive ~ sth (computing) to go to a website on the Internet
 - For more information, visit our website.
- intransitive, transitive to stay somewhere for a short time
 - We don't live here. We're just visiting.
 - ~ sth The lake is also visited by seals in the summer.
- transitive ~ sth to make an official visit to sb, for example to perform checks or give advice
 - government inspectors visiting schools

Verb forms:

verb forms
present simple
I / you / we / they	visit
	BrE / 'vɪzɪt/
	NAmE / 'vɪzɪt/
he / she / it	visits
	BrE / 'vɪzɪts/
	NAmE / 'vɪzɪts/
past simple, past participle	visited BrE / 'vɪzɪtɪd/
	NAmE / 'vɪzɪtɪd/
-ing form	visiting
	BrE / 'vɪzɪtɪŋ/
	NAmE / 'vɪzɪtɪŋ/

Word Origin:

Middle English: from Old French visiter or Latin visitare 'go to see', frequentative of visare 'to view', from videre 'to see'.

Example Bank:

- A million people are expected to visit the museum over the next 12 months.
- Come and visit with me sometime.
- My parents are coming to visit me next week.
- We've just been to visit my grandparents.
- Be sure to visit us next time you're in London.
- Government inspectors are visiting all schools in the area next month.
- I visited her in hospital.
- Jason invited us to visit his ranch.
- Next time you visit the States you'll have to come and see us.
- She's gone to visit her mother in Texas.
- The President will be visiting six European capitals.
- The island is also visited by seals in the summer.
- The shops are a major reason for visiting the city.
- We don't live here. We're just visiting.
- You should visit the dentist at least once a year.

Derived ↑visit something on somebody ▪ ↑visit with somebody noun

- ~ (to sb/sth) (from sb) an occasion or a period of time when sb goes to see a place or person and spends time there
 - It's my first visit to New York.
 - They're on an exchange visit to France.
 - If you have time, pay a visit to the local museum.
 - We had a visit from the police last night.
 - Is this a social visit, or is it business?
 - a visit to the doctor
 - (BrE) a home visit (= when your doctor visits you) see also ↑flying visit

- (computing) an occasion when sb looks at a website on the Internet
 - Visits to our website have doubled in a year.
- ~ (with sb) (NAmE, informal) an occasion when two or more people meet to talk in an informal way

Word Origin:

Middle English: from Old French visiter or Latin visitare 'go to see', frequentative of visare 'to view', from videre 'to see'.

Example Bank:

- Following her letter of complaint, she received a personal visit from the store manager.
- He offered her a drink to try to prolong her visit.

- He thought back to his visit with the doctor.
- He was forced to cut short a visit to North America.
- How many doctors are still able to make home visits?
- I think it's time we paid him a little visit.
- I'd been looking forward to my cousin's visit for ages.
- If you're staying in Rome, Ostia is well worth a visit.
- On one of her regular visits home, she told her parents she was engaged.
- Pay us a visit next time you're in town.
- She enjoyed the frequent visits of her grandchildren.
- The President has been briefed in preparation for his forthcoming visit to Russia.
- The visit signalled the normalization of relations between the two countries.
- They came here last week, and we'll pay them a return visit in the summer.
- We had a visit from somebody collecting for charity.
- We received a letter announcing a visit from government inspectors.
- We used to go on school visits to museums and historical buildings.
- While on holiday in Italy, the prime minister paid a courtesy visit to his opposite number in Rome.
- You should receive a home visit from your midwife within a month.
- a visit to the dentist
- Allow three hours for your visit.
- Enjoy your visit!
- Is this a social visit or are you here on business?
- Is this your first visit to New York?
- She was making one of her frequent visits to London.
- The inspectors paid a surprise visit to the factory.
- The president made a flying visit to the festival.
- The prime minister is on an official visit to Jamaica.
- They received a visit from the party leader.
- We had to cut short our visit and fly home.

visit

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

I. visit ¹ S2 W1 /'vɪzət, 'vɪzɪt/ BrE ¹ AmE ¹ verb

[Word Family: noun: ↑visit, ↑visitor, ↑visitation; verb: ↑visit, ↑revisit]

[Date: 1100-1200; Language: Old French; Origin: visiter, from Latin visitare, from visere 'to go to see', from videre ⇨ ↑vision]

1. [intransitive and transitive] to go and spend time in a place or with someone, especially for pleasure or interest:

- Eric went to Seattle to visit his cousins.
- I was really pleased that they came to visit me.
- Which cities did you visit in Spain?
- A recent trip to London gave me the opportunity to visit the Science Museum.
- She doesn't visit very often.

REGISTER

In everyday English, people often say that they come/go to see someone, rather than visit them:

- He's gone to Scotland to see his family.

2. [transitive] to go to a place as part of your official job, especially to examine it:

- The building inspector is visiting the new housing project.

visit with American English:

- The President's first trip abroad will be to visit with troops in Bosnia.

3. [transitive] formal to go to see a doctor, lawyer etc in order to get treatment or advice

4. [transitive] to look at a website on the Internet:

- Over 1,000 people visit our site every week.

5. [intransitive] American English to talk socially with someone visit with

- Why don't you kids play outside while we visit with each other?

...

THESAURUS

■ a place

- visit to go and spend time in a place, for interest or pleasure: You must visit Kyoto. | They visited all the usual places.
- go to to visit a place. Go to is very commonly used in everyday English instead of visit: Have you ever been to England? | They went to the Eiffel Tower and the Flea Market.
- go sightseeing to visit places of interest in a country: We went sightseeing in the old part of the city.

■ a person

- visit to go and spend time with someone: How often do you visit your grandparents?
- come around/by/over (also come round British English) to visit someone informally in their home, especially when you live near them: A few friends came round last night.
- drop in/by (also call in/by British English) to visit someone in their home, especially on your way to another place: Kate said she'd drop by later to give you the forms.
- look somebody up to visit someone who you do not see very often, when you are spending time in the area where they live: Look me up if you're ever in Newark.

visit something on somebody/something phrasal verb biblical to do something to punish someone or show them that you are angry:

God's wrath will be visited on sinners.

II. visit² S3 W2 BrE ^{AmE} noun [countable]

[Word Family: noun: ↑visit, ↑visitor, ↑visitation; verb: ↑visit, ↑revisit]

1. an occasion when someone goes to spend time in a place or goes to see a person visit to a visit to Chicago

We're just here on a short visit.

Why don't you come for a visit this summer?

I decided to pay him a visit at his office.

I've just had a visit from the police.

I'm only here for the weekend – just a flying visit this time.

his first official visit to Britain as Russian President

The town is well worth a visit.

2. an occasion when you see a doctor, lawyer etc for treatment or advice

3. American English an occasion when you talk socially with someone:

Barbara and I had a nice long visit.

...

COLLOCATIONS

■ verbs

- pay somebody a visit (=visit someone) Perhaps she'll come up to town then and pay me a visit.
- make/pay a visit The king made an official visit to Poland last year.
- have/receive a visit from somebody I've just had a visit from Lou Stacey.

■ adjectives

- a brief/short visit Miss Russell was only able to pay a brief visit.
- a flying visit British English (=a very short visit) Timpson was due to pay a flying visit to London.
- a surprise visit (=one that the person being visited does not know is going to happen) Naomi paid a surprise visit to an old school friend.
- an unannounced visit (=one that someone makes without first telling the person that they are going to visit) The social worker made an unannounced visit.
- an official/state visit The president made an official visit to France this week.
- a return visit (=when you visit a place again, or when someone you visited visits you) George was already planning a return visit.

■ phrases

- be worth a visit Las Palmas, the lively capital, is well worth a visit.

visit

Freakuency Pack

12500 809^{MCW}

15000 486^{COCA}

RANGE: 1k VISIT ⁹⁹⁸¹⁰

visit ⁴¹²¹⁷

visited ¹³⁶⁰⁶

visiting ¹⁰⁸⁹⁰

visitor ⁶³⁷²

visitors ¹⁶⁴⁴²

visits ¹⁰⁰³⁰

visitation ¹²⁵³

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

12389 2378¹⁷⁹⁸¹ nn1

10204 3218¹²⁹⁴⁸ vvi

7344 3922¹⁰²⁵⁸ vv0

19 176711²⁰ nnu

6 349477⁶ np1

4 433167⁴ jj