

chaotic[keɪ'ɒtɪk,-{keɪ'ɒtɪk}(ə)] a

хаотический, хаотичный

chaotic

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

cha·ot·ic BrE [keɪ'ɒtɪk] <sup>ˈ</sup> NAmE [keɪ'ɑːtɪk] <sup>ˈ</sup> adjective

in a state of complete confusion and lack of order

- The traffic in the city is chaotic in the rush hour.

Derived Word ↑chaoticallyWord Origin:[chaotic chaotically] early 18th cent.: from ↑chaos, on the pattern of words such as hypnotic.Example Bank:

- It was really chaotic just before the show started.
- Things can be a little chaotic in our house.
- Things have been getting chaotic in the office recently.
- Things often appear chaotic to the outsider.
- Amid chaotic scenes in court, the long-awaited verdict was announced.
- It's a bit chaotic around here at the moment.

chaotic

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

cha·ot·ic /keɪ'ɒtɪk $ -'ɑːtɪk/ BrE <sup>ˈ</sup> AmE <sup>ˈ</sup> adjective

a chaotic situation is one in which everything is happening in a confused way:

- a chaotic mixture of images

chaotic

Freakuency Pack

12500 8425<sup>MCW</sup>15000 5433<sup>COCA</sup>RANGE: 7k CHAOTIC <sup>2641</sup>chaotic <sup>2579</sup>chaotically <sup>62</sup>

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

<sup>2143</sup> 11370<sup>2579</sup> jj