

pap

I

[pæp] n

1. уст. сосок
2. прыщ; нарыв
3. pl диал. остроконечные вершины холмов
4. тех. круглая бобышка

II

1. [pæp] n

1. кашка, кашица, пюре (для детей или больных)
a pap of bread-crumbs and milk - кашка из тёртых сухарей и молока
2. 1) мякоть (плодов)
- 2) бот. паренхима
3. амер. разг. доходы или привилегии, получаемые от государственной службы

2. [pæp] v

- 1) кормить кашкой
- 2) сюсюкать, вести примитивные разговоры
do not pap us up, you are talking to adults - не сюсюкайте, вы говорите со взрослыми

II

[pæp] амер. = *пара*¹pap

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

pap [pap paps] BrE [pæp] ^m NAmE [pæp] ^m noun uncountable

1. (disapproving) books, magazines, television programmes, etc. that have no real value
2. soft or almost liquid food eaten by babies or people who are ill/sick
3. (SAfrE) ↑porridge made with flour from ↑corn (↑maize)

Word Origin:late Middle English: probably from Middle Low German, Middle Dutch pappe, probably based on Latin pappare 'eat'.pap

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

I. pap¹ /pæp/ BrE ^m AmE ^m noun [uncountable]

[Date: 1300-1400; Language: Old French; Origin: papa, from Latin pappā]

1. films, programmes, books etc that are badly made or badly written, are intended for entertainment only, and have no serious value:
"Hollywood produces a lot of pap."
2. especially British English very soft food that does not have a strong taste, like the food that babies eat

⇒ ↑Pap smear

II. pap² BrE ^m AmE ^m verb (past tense and past participle papped, present participle papping) [transitive usually in passive] informal

if a famous person is papped, one of the ↑paparazzi takes a photograph of them without asking them, for a newspaper or magazine:

"The singer was papped coming out of a nightclub."

pap

Freakuency Pack

12500 9354^{MCW}15000 13774^{COCA}RANGE: 10k PAP²⁵¹pap²³⁶paps¹⁵

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

165 48481²³⁶ nn1