

indignant[ɪnˈdɪɡnənt] a

возмущённый, негодующий

to be /to feel/ indignant at smth. - быть возмущённым /возмущаться/ чем-л.

indignant protest - гневный протест

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

indignantin-dig-nant BrE [ɪnˈdɪɡnənt] ^ˈ NAmE [ɪnˈdɪɡnənt] ^ˈ adjective

feeling or showing anger and surprise because you think that you have been treated unfairly

- an indignant letter/look
- ~ at/about sth She was very indignant at the way she had been treated.
- ~ that... They were indignant that they hadn't been invited.

Derived Word †indignantlyWord Origin:[indignant indignantly] late 16th cent.: from Latin indignant- 'regarding as unworthy', from the verb indignari, from in- 'not' + dignus 'worthy'.Example Bank:

- 'He deserves to be thrashed,' she protested, fiercely indignant.
- She became rather indignant over suggestions that she had lied.
- She waxes indignant if anyone tries to contradict her.
- They were quite indignant at his remarks.
- an indignant look/letter

indignant

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

in dig nant /ɪnˈdɪɡnənt/ BrE ^ˈ AmE ^ˈ adjective[Date: 1500-1600; Language: Latin; Origin: present participle of indignari, from indignus 'unworthy'] angry and surprised because you feel insulted or unfairly treated indignant at/about

- ˈ Liz was indignant at the way her child had been treated.
- ˈ an indignant reply

—indignantly adverb:

- ˈ 'Of course I didn't tell her!' Sasha said indignantly.

indignant

Freakuency Pack

12500 9660^{MCW}15000 8445^{COCA}RANGE: 9k INDIGNANT 1039indignant ⁷²⁶indignantly ³¹³

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

663 25647⁷²⁶ jj