

bandit[ˈbændɪt] n (pl мж. -itti)

разбойник, бандит, преступник

bandit

Oxford Advanced Learners Dictionary 8th Ed.

ban·dit [bandit bandits banditti] BrE [ˈbændɪt] ⓘ NAmE [ˈbændɪt] ⓘ noun

a member of an armed group of thieves who attack travellers

- Buses driving through the mountains have been attacked by bandits.

Word Origin:late 16th cent.: from Italian bandito, ‘banned’, past participle of bandire ‘to ban’.bandit

Longman DOCE 5th Ed. (En-En)

ban ˌdit /ˈbændɪt, ˈbændɪt/ BrE ⓘ AmE ⓘ noun [countable]

[Date: 1500-1600; Language: Italian; Origin: bandito, from bandire ‘to banish’] someone who robs people, especially one of a group of people who attack travellers:

- They travelled 30 miles through bandit country.

—banditry noun [uncountable]

⇒ ↑one-armed bandit

• • •

THESAURUS

- thief someone who steals things from a person or place: The thief grabbed her handbag and ran off down the street. | Car thieves are operating in this area.
- burglar someone who goes into houses, offices etc to steal things: Burglars broke into the house and took a computer worth £1,000. | Police believe the burglar got in through the kitchen window.
- robber someone who steals from banks, offices, houses etc, especially using threats or violence: a gang of bank robbers | an armed robber (=a robber with a gun)
- shoplifter someone who takes things from shops without paying for them, especially by hiding them in their clothes or in a bag: The store has installed hidden cameras to catch shoplifters.
- pickpocket someone who steals from people’s pockets, especially in a crowded public place: Look out for pickpockets in busy tourist areas.
- mugger a thief who violently attacks someone in the street and robs them: The mugger punched him in the face and tried to steal his wallet.
- joyrider someone who steals a car and drives it very fast for fun: Police pursued the teenage joyriders across three counties.
- looter someone who breaks into shops or homes and steals things, after there has been a natural disaster, a war, or a violent protest: Police chiefs have warned that looters will be shot.
- bandit a member of an armed group of thieves who travel around attacking people in country areas : The village was attacked by a gang of bandits.
- poacher someone who hunts animals, birds etc illegally on other people’s land: Their job is to prevent poachers from killing the elephants.

bandit

Freakuency Pack

12500 9799<sup>MCW</sup>15000 7688<sup>COCA</sup>RANGE: 7k BANDIT 1432

bandit 622

bandits 810

COCA 500k Unlemmatized

295 34187<sup>443</sup> *nn1*56 67940<sup>124</sup> *np1*29 112618<sup>47</sup> *vv0*8 293789<sup>8</sup> nnu