regenerate

1. [rɪˈdʒen(ə)rɪt] a
1. возрождённый, обновлённый духовно
2. преобразованный, улучшенный
3. спец. регенерированный
4. в грам. знач. сущ. спец. регенерированный продукт, регенерат

2. [rɪˈdʒenəreɪt] v
1. 1) перерождать (полностью) обновлять; возрождать to regenerate a system - коренным образом изменить систему
2) перерождаться, (полностью) обновляться, возрождаться his self-respect regenerated - он снова стал уважать себя
2. снова вызывать к жизни
   the sun regenerated the plants - под лучами солнца растения ожили
3. спец. восстанавливать, регенерировать

---

regenerate

re·gen·er·ate [regenerate regenerates regenerated regenerating] BrE
[rɪˈdʒenəreɪt] NAmE [rɪˈdʒenəreɪt] verb

1. transitive ~ sth to make an area, institution, etc. develop and grow strong again
 • The money will be used to regenerate the commercial heart of the town.
2. intransitive, transitive (biology) to grow again; to make sth grow again
 • Once destroyed, brain cells do not regenerate.
 • ~ sth/itself If the woodland is left alone, it will regenerate itself in a few years.
  Derived Words ↑regeneration ▪ ↑regenerative Verb forms:

present simple
I / you / we /they	regenerate
	BrE /rɪˈdʒenəreɪt/
	NAmE /rɪˈdʒenəreɪt/
he / she /it	regenerates
	BrE /rɪˈdʒenəreɪts/NAmE /rɪˈdʒenəreɪts/
past simple, past participle	regenerated
	BrE /rɪˈdʒenəreɪtɪd/NAmE /rɪˈdʒenəreɪtɪd/
-ing form	regenerating
	BrE /rɪˈdʒenəreɪtɪŋ/
	NAmE /rɪˈdʒenəreɪtɪŋ/

  Word Origin:
  late Middle English (as an adjective): from Latin regeneratus 'created again' , past participle of regenerare, from re- 'again' + generare 'create' . The verb dates from the mid 16th cent.

---

regenerate

re·gen·e·rate /rɪˈdʒenəreɪt/ BrE AmE verb
1. [transitive] formal to make something develop and grow strong again:
   efforts to regenerate the US economy
   The Marshall Plan sought to regenerate the shattered Europe of 1947.
2. [intransitive and transitive] technical to grow again, or make something grow again:
   Small nodules form as the liver cells regenerate.
—regenerative /-nərətɪv/ adjective:
   a regenerative process
—regeneration /rɪˌdʒenəˈreɪʃən/ noun [uncountable]:
   a new strategy for urban regeneration

---

regenerate

125009911^MCW

150006337^COCA

RANGE: 7k REGENERATE ^1942
  regenerate ^451
  regenerated ^155
  regenerating ^158
  regenerates ^50 regeneration ^861 regenerations ^0 regenerative ^267
COCA 500k Unlemmatized
  27140176^333 vvi

[67]90647[71] vv0

[23]160047[24] jj

[20]164358[23] nn1